Influential Person: Mrs. Brillo

When I think of Antonio Varacelli three words come to mind, selflessness, helpful, and kind. He was a man that stepped in and helped someone when they needed it. The person in my life who can be described the same way is my second grade speech teacher, Mrs. Brillo.

When I had problems in school with my speech and my friends, she was always there to help me. Mrs. Brillo knew that if I talked through my problems I could solve them and she always gave me the opportunity to talk with her. She also knows that I love to talk and it was nice to have someone listen. I love Mrs. Brillo's hugs and she always made me feel like I could come to her for anything even when it wasn't my speech days. She is a very kind person.

Mrs. Brillo always made speech fun and that's why I loved her.
